SEYMOUR, MISSOURI

A story recently printed in the Mirror concerning the vast quantity of squirrels consumed at one meal at the John Rippee home has caused much comment, and one prominent Wolf Creek farmer was heard to remark that when John's folks come to see him the neighbors should see that he has plenty for them to eat, but John says he'll feed 'em all right—and won't sell a $1,000 horse for $200, either—says he doesn't get that excited—and that such men as Dr. J. A. Fuson, L. B. Latimer and P. W. Newton can testify that he has plenty to eat.

The schools are closed this physicians, who were already overworked.

Miss Maude M. Aldrich, A.B., with the National Day Federation, was here this week making arrangements for an auto tour of Wright county the last of the month in the interest of the "dry" amendment to the constitution. She has been touring some of the southern Missouri counties on horseback. We will give further details of the work next week.

Mansfield is this week a city of sorrow, and the Mirror extends its deepest sympathy to the families bereaved of loved ones and to those homes where sickness is. In some homes, every member of the family is suffering from the Spanish influenza. Several places of business are working at a great disadvantage, with a large percentage of their force sick. The schools and theatre are closed, the Nugget voluntarily closing during the epidemic.
